

RandoCamping

By bike, by foot...
How to find accommodation, a train,
a route in France ?

<https://randocamping.touteslatitudes.fr>

The RandoCamping website brings together on a single map all the accommodation favoured by hikers. Not just campsites, but also refuges, « gites d'étape » and youth hostels. The data comes from the French national DataTourisme platform, which aggregates all the information from the Tourism Offices.

As well as finding accommodation close to a location or itinerary, the website provides all the train lines and passenger stations with information on how accessible the station is with an unmounted bike.

A collaborative website where accommodation providers and hikers can contribute to improving the quality of information available on accommodation or access to train stations in France.

A website developed by a touring cyclist to help you plan your hiking and cycling tours.
